Department of Art Education and Art Therapy
Facets of Art Education and Art Therapy Series III

Richard Wollheim, the distinguished philosopher, will be visiting Concordia University on Thursday, March 24th as the guest of the Department of Art Education and Art Therapy. His books include: Art and its Objects, 1968, 1980; A Family Romance (Fiction) 1969; Friend, 1971; On Art and the Mind, 1973; The Thread of Life, 1984; Painting as an Art, 1987. He has edited, amongst other works, Hume on Religion, 1963; F.H. Bradley, Appearance and Reality, 1968; Adrian Stokes, selected writings, 1972; Freud, a collection of critical essays, 1974; J.S. Mill, Three Essays 1975; Philosophical Essays on Freud, 1982. These titles reflect the unique range and depth of his thinking about issues of great interest to members of the university. We would like to ensure that as many members of our faculty as possible are able to meet Professor Wollheim, however our resources are limited. Our proposed itinerary is:

Thursday, March 24th

1:30 Lunch - L'Express, St. Denis. Faculty are welcome to join us for lunch. Please inform Marie Andrée Robitaille as soon as possible and by Monday, March 21st at the latest.

4:00 Informal Seminar, Room 245, Visual Arts Building, with light refreshments. Faculty and Guests

6:30 Dinner. Venue to be arranged. Please contact Marie Andrée if you wish to join us for dinner.

8:30 Lecture "Representation and Pictorial Meaning", Hall Building, Room 937.

We look forward to a stimulating day!

Sincerely,

Peter Byrne
